

Boston Business Journal

LATEST NEWS

November 15, 2004

ERA Boston acquires Maxwell Properties

ERA Boston Real Estate Group, a residential real estate agency, announced has acquired Maxwell Properties of Cambridge and the firm's URL's for an undisclosed price

The two web domains -- www.cambridgerealestate.com and cambridgeapartments.com -- will expand ERA Boston Real Estate Group's corporate foothold across eastern Massachusetts. The acquisition brings ERA's intellectual properties to more than 25 communities across the state, providing the firm with one of the most comprehensive online listing presences of any residential brokerage in Greater Boston.

"We are excited to add Maxwell Properties of Cambridge to the ERA family and to our expert team of local residential brokers," Michael Carucci, chief executive officer of ERA Boston Real Estate Group, said in a statement. "This acquisition further emphasizes ERA Boston Real Estate Group's aggressive growth strategy through both organic channels and mergers and acquisitions."

ERA Boston is a full-service real estate agency that has generated more than $500 million in real estate sales in Greater Boston in its 20-year history.

© 2004 American City Business Journals Inc.

All contents of this site © American City Business Journals Inc. All rights reserved.